COLLEGE ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

All students with disabilities can receive reasonable accommodations in college if they meet the eligibility criteria.

Obtaining accommodations in college is different than in high school, such as:

- A student must register with the college's Office of Disability Services/ Office of Accessibility in order to be considered for accommodations and supports.
- It is the student's responsibility to obtain and maintain accommodations.
- Depending on the college, students will need to request an accommodation letter every semester or year.
- Students will have to submit accommodation requests for each exam to their college's accessibility office in order to receive certain testing accommodations.

Below is the process for students with disabilities to obtain accommodations. It takes time to put accommodations and assistive technology into place, and it is the student's responsibility to provide necessary documentation in a timely manner.

HOW TO APPLY FOR REASONABLE ACCOMMODATIONS

1. The student decides what to disclose and what accommodations to request.

2. The student submits the application and required documentation to the college's accessibility office.

6. Begin with step 1 every semester or year, as necessary.

3. The student will meet with an accessibility counselor to discuss available accommodations.

5. The student requests specific testing accommodations 1-2 weeks before they are needed (Repeat as necessary).

4. Once accommodations are agreed upon, the student should inform professors about their accommodations.
